Assistant Police Chief's Report

Quarterly Report for April-June, 2014

Honorable Mayor
City Council
Citizens of La Quinta

The past few months fully realized the police department's newly implemented "Coffee with a Cop" program. Each month our citizens and officers gather together at local coffee shops to meet and have casual dialogue. In speaking with our officers, they tell me about wonderful encounters with our citizens and appreciate the comments, suggestions, and "community feel" they get over a coffee cup.

The July 4th holiday is fast approaching and our officers are always concerned about the loss of lives and damage to property caused by intoxicated drivers. To serve as a reminder and gain vigilant support from our citizens, a checkpoint was held at the end of June. The important aspects of combating impaired driving includes training and education for our officers and citizens. A single officer on patrol, looking for impaired drivers, isn't the most effective method for safeguarding our community. Our experience has shown the collection of patrols, training, citizen education at checkpoints, and community support is most effective.

The dedicated women and men of La Quinta's police force continue making significant arrests every month. As a result of exhaustive evidence collection, witness interviews, crime scene management, and investigations, our violent crimes remain low. Although theft crimes still comprise the largest metric of all crimes facing us, the Special Enforcement Team recently arrested a pair of villains who are linked to multiple thefts in our community.

I look forward to offering progress reports in the coming quarter and feel spirited by the strides our police and citizens are making together.

David Walton
Assistant Police Chief, City of La Quinta
